

Virginia Legislature.

In the Senate, on Monday, resolutions were presented, so amending the existing laws regulating the tariff of tolls upon works of internal improvement, in which the State is a stockholder, as to secure the interest of the Commonwealth against a usurious competition, and to provide for the adjustment of the rate of tolls to be charged and difficulties to be settled, between competing lines, by the Board of Public Works.

Of relieving the Treasury of the Commonwealth by funding the floating debt for a limited period.

The bill for the establishment of a North-western Lunatic Asylum was taken up, and the question being on its passage, and the bill being passed by inserting $25,000, the bill was passed.

The bill appropriating $5,000 for the purchase of Mr. Barbee's statue—The Young Republican—to be placed in the Capitol, was next taken up and passed—yeas 27, nays 10.

In the House of Delegates, a bill was reported, authorizing a subscription on the part of the Commonwealth to the capital stock of the Alexandria, Mount Vernon, and Accotink Turnpike Company.

The resolution offered some days since, by Mr. DeJarnette, prescribing the order of business, was agreed to after a slight modification. The House then proceeded to the consideration of bills on their first reading.

About one hundred and fifty bills were advanced to a second reading, and all the addresses were presented, and agreed to except those against the following propositions, which were laid upon the table:

Of amending the act providing for the voluntary enlistment of free negroes.

Of requiring railroad companies to fence their tracks.

Of exempting blind persons from the prohibitory tax imposed on pedlars of books.

The Contested Seat of Mr. Davis.
The Washington correspondent of the Press, speaking of a meeting of the committee on elections in relation to the Maryland contested seats, says:

"In the case of Brooks against Davis, the committee were divided as to whether the contestant was included in the law of 1851, and should proceed to take testimony in this contest with the sitting member at his own expense, having disclaimed any claim to the seat, and avowed his aim to be the purity of the ballot-box in the district of which he was a voter. The House will be called upon to decide on the course to be pursued by the committee in this peculiar case."

DIED.
At Woodbury, the residence of Dr. Wm. A. Spence, Westmoreland county, Va., on the 18th inst., after a protracted and painful illness, Mr. ALEXANDER YOUNG, in the 57th year of his age. When a young man he was employed as a clerk in the post office at Richmond, Va., and from thence removed to Edenton, North Carolina, where he resided until about the year 1847, when he emigrated to the State of Mississippi. He remained there two years, and making Washington city his home for a short time, he finally returned to his native county, where his bones now rest. Mr. Spence through life sustained the reputation of an honest and honorable man, remarkable for his generosity, hospitality, and candor—the character of a true Virginia gentleman. May he rest in peace!

At Pittsylvania, in Prince William county, on the 23rd inst. of congestion (or some other affection) of the brain, THOMAS OTWAY CARTER, Jr., in the 32nd year of his age.

Congress.

In the Senate, yesterday, Mr. Douglas, from the Committee on Territories, introduced a bill for the admission of Minnesota into the Union as a State.

On motion of Mr. Pearce, the joint resolution voting a medal to Com. Paulding, was postponed till one o'clock on Thursday.

A message was received from the House announcing the decease of Messrs. Brenton and Lockhart, members elect from Indiana, when Messrs. Bright and Finch respectively delivered eulogies, and the usual resolutions of respect and condolence were adopted.

The Senate then proceeded to the consideration of the bill to increase the efficiency of the army, by retiring disabled officers.

In the House of Representatives, the resolution empowering the select committee, appointed to investigate the charge of corruption in relation to certain members of last Congress, to employ a stenographer, was adopted.

On motion of Mr. J. Quincy Jones, the House resolved itself into Committee of the Whole, and Mr. Anderson defined his position on the subject of Kansas affairs.

The Invalid Pension bill was passed, and the bill to pay $700,000, as a deficiency for the printing of the last two Congresses, was taken up.

LOCAL ITEMS.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE ORPHAN ASYLUM AND FEMALE FREE SCHOOL.—The Twenty-Sixth Annual Meeting of the Orphan Asylum and Female Free School, was held at the Lyceum Hall, on Monday night, James H. McVeigh, esq., was called to the Chair, and Andrew Jamieson appointed Secretary.

Mr. McVeigh, on taking the Chair, explained the object of the meeting in some very appropriate remarks, and the meeting was then opened with prayer by the Rev. Dr. Dunbar, Rev. Mr. Sprigg then read the following Report of the Board of Managers:

The Managers of the Orphan Asylum and Female Free School, in presenting their 26th Annual Report, beg leave to record their sentiments of gratitude for the continued favor of Divine Providence during the past year. We most devoutly thank God for the preservation of our dear friends, and for the removal from our circle of its most honored members.

Sincerely had our last anniversary passed, when Mrs. Gardner, one of our oldest members, was summoned from the duties and trials of earth to the rest of heaven. Her end was peace. Her works of charity are her most fitting monument. The orphan mourns no truer or more beneficent friend and benefactor.

More recently, Mrs. Bayne, one of our younger managers, was, in an unexpected hour taken from among us, to be promoted to a higher sphere of usefulness and happiness. Of a retiring disposition, her heart was keenly alive to the beauty of charity, and to the great objects of our institution. These solemn events warn us to be diligent in our work, since it may be so soon ended.

The number of Orphans now in the Asylum is eighteen, all in good health and under excellent discipline, as administered by Mrs. Newman, the Matron, with whose management of the children, the Board continues to be gratified.

Four of the orphans have, since our last report, been transferred from the asylum to private houses, where they can be comfortable and useful. Three orphans have been admitted into the asylum in the past year. The ages of the inmates range from five to sixteen. They have generally enjoyed good health during the year, being surrounded with the comforts of their happy common home, and constantly cared for by those to whose charge they are committed—the managers themselves attending to the supply of their essential wants. For the kind and generous services of Doctors Fairfax, Murphy, and Lewis, we would here express our grateful obligations. Nor should we omit to mention those delicate and cordial manifestations of kindness to the orphans on the part of the pupils of the schools under the care of Miss Mark, Mrs. Whiting, and Mr. Scott.

These expressions of interest on the part of more favored children, to those who in the progress of misfortune have become the objects of charity, are evidences that the spirit of benevolence is beginning to be cultivated in their hearts, and may be expected to result in abundant fruit hereafter.

The feeling of joy among our little inmates was excited to a great height when they beheld a Christmas tree springing up by their own dear friends, loaded with the gifts of the season, and glittering with the decorations prepared by the fair hands that presented it.

For this beautiful compliment, we are indebted to three young ladies, for whom we would express the wish that they may live long to experience the truth of the heavenly maxim, that "it is more blessed to give than to receive."

The managers regret that they shall not have the services of Miss Griffith, as second Directress, who has felt it her duty to tender her resignation to the Board, after years of faithful service. In her, the orphan has ever found a devoted friend. We have also sustained a serious loss in the resignation, and removal from town, of Mrs. Danforth, Secretary of the Board. A unanimous vote of thanks was passed and directed to be conveyed to her, for we use the language of the first Directress, speaking in the name of the Board, "the deep interest which you have ever manifested in the institution, and the efficient manner in which you have fulfilled the duties of your office, the grateful remembrance of which will long be felt by them, and their kindest wishes will follow you, for your health, happiness, and future usefulness."

Whatever changes may occur, the cause still lives, and is ever with us, in our thoughts and near our hearts. We cherish it as a sacred trust, committed to us in the providence of God, and consecrated by the great example of Him, who went about our excursions. His bounty has ever supplied our wants. No appeal to the alms of the state, the citizens of Alexandria, has ever been made in vain. Times may change, but our people do not change with them, when the destitute orphan is heard asking for her annual supply of the necessities of life, and the richer boon of moral and religious instruction.

The examining committee of the Free School, report favorably upon the progress of the scholars—numbering sixty-six—during the year.

The Trustees and Managers of the Orphan Asylum would acknowledge from Mr. Wm. H. Fowle, the generous transfer of the building primarily erected as an "Aged Women's Home"—but desirous as the Board feel to avail themselves of this extension of their field of usefulness, by connecting with their present enterprise an Asylum for Orphan Boys, they need funds to enable them even to commence the good work.

In conclusion, while we record our thanks to Almighty God, for his continued smiles upon our efforts, we would address ourselves to our future labors, with an unwavering reliance on his aid, at the same time asking the prayers of all upon our institution, which is endeavored to all by so many tender and grateful associations.

Our work, begun in faith, has been cheered by hope, and crowned with success. With these elements of all true benevolent exertions to sustain us, we will go forward, confiding in the promises of God, receiving the Lord's poor for our guests, maintaining them for his glory, and guiding them into his everlasting Kingdom.

The statement of the Treasurer was next presented, and read as follows:
